The purpose of our consulting service is to leverage our significant experience to enable partner schools to systematically implement a sustainable Positive Education approach in their setting.

Positive Education implementations are complex and complicated. There are rarely easy or obvious or right answers. There will almost always be compromises and sacrifices required. And there will always be different options with different trade-offs.

However, there are successful patterns that have emerged and are continuing to develop. Our role is to recognize those patterns, share our insights, and be willing to recall, share, adapt, and apply these patterns.

Our IPE Consulting services rely on a combination of: Knowledge + Experience + Communication. We have facts and science to draw upon + stories and patterns to inform different options + clear articulation of different perspectives.
